We have built our reputation as a premium specialty chemical distributor by providing a superior level of service and performance to both our customers and principals. We recruit and retain the most qualified, capable and talented people available, nurture a quality and food safety culture within our team and provide a safe and productive working environment.

We operate under a system of formally documented procedures and quality management consistent with Responsible Distribution Canada's Code of Practice, the guidelines of AIB International, HACCP, Good Manufacturing Practices (GMPs), and ISO 9001 and GFSI FSSC 22000.

These quality and food safety systems enable our company to ensure that the products we distribute meet all quality and food safety requirements and are in accordance with all applicable regulations and customer requirements. These systems also facilitate continuous improvement of our processes to support our objectives of being rated as the best distributor for every principal we represent, and as a preferred supplier to the customers we serve.
